Mr. Robert S. Mueller, III
Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
J. Edgar Hoover Building
935 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20535-0001

Dear Mr. Mueller:

Subject: Sabotage, fraud, and malfeasance at the Information Systems Division of the IRS.

More than a month ago, I met with Special Agent Christopher Hinkle regarding the above subject. Subsequently, I have also given him a copy of my resignation letter addressed to Commissioner Rossotti, in which I have alleged illegal activities by a gang of managers and executives in the Information Systems Division of the Internal Revenue Service. Because of this sabotage and malfeasance, it has been estimated that the direct loss to the taxpayers is anywhere from $10 Billion to $13 Billion. The information systems modernization has failed for the third or the fourth time. The indirect cost due to those repeated failures has been estimated to exceed that amount by several times over.

I urge you to open a criminal investigation of this matter. Should you be hesitant or concerned that this may reflect badly on the current administration, you can rest assured that this kind of sabotage and illegal conduct has been going on for several years. Indeed, no administration can be faulted other than the managers and executives involved in these nefarious and toxic conduct. There is absolutely no need for the FBI to accept even a single word of what I say. If you open a formal criminal investigation, there are other honest people within the IRS who may be willing to come forward and testify regarding what has been happening at the IRS, provided their jobs and safety are not threatened.

I sent my resignation letter to Commissioner Rossotti on September 10, 2001. I surrendered my badge and the Key Card that allows entry to the IRS Federal Building along with my resignation letter. Subsequent to my resignation, some managers/executives started a rumor that they saw me illegally enter the building on October 11, 2001, log into what used to be my computer, and sent an electronic mail threatening to "kill someone". After I was physically assaulted, I had to run out of the

New Carrollton Federal Building on August 22, 2001. I assure you, I never dared to go back, and chose to resign. This matter has been brought to the attention of Commissioner Rossotti asking him to clear my name. Months have passed, and he has not yet done so. Why? Indeed, upon receiving my resignation letter, the Commissioner should have promptly referred the contents of the allegations contained in that letter to the FBI for possible criminal investigation. I should not have to write this letter at all. Why is this cover-up?

What should concern the FBI is that this is not a minor "misdeed" by one or two managers or executives. It has been perpetrated by a whole gang of managers and executives through blackmail and intimidation over a period of years. Upon investigation, you may find that these illegal activities span the multiple predicates in the Federal RICO statutes. At this point the only benefit that may accrue because of an investigation by the FBI is the possibility of stopping this illegal conduct from continuing into the future years.

Some of us "Damn Foreigners", frequently treated as fourth class citizens, came to this country to escape fraud and corruption. If I may, I urge you to meet with me for a few minutes. I fully understand that your time is precious in the light of all the terrorist activity.

With the best regards,

Sincerely,

N. Srinivasan.
